35 YEARS....STILL CELEBRATING

To commemorate these 35 years of cable excellence, we introduced the Crown Princess interconnect cable at the beginning of 2018, a limited edition model combining many of our inventions and demonstrating our development. Siltech is very proud of the great success this pure and advanced monocrystal silver conductor cable proved to be. Its fantastic performance made it an easy decision to develop a brother: the Crown Prince speaker cable! Built on the same foundation of monocrystal silver conductors, our own connectors and high-grade insulation materials, they perfectly work together to get the best out of your system.

Technological advancements and extensive research during the past 35 years have brought Siltech's products to a whole new level, but our eagerness to reach higher remains the same; because as technology and our level of knowledge develops, our definition of perfection develops too.

That is why we believe our 35 years of excellence are no accident.
